Bed & Breakfast

Bailey McSwain, the new owner of Home Sweet Home Bed and Breakfast, is a Paris, Tennessee native -- long gone - who returned home in January of this year. Born in Paris at McSwain Clinic (his grandfather's hospital on Dunlap Street), Bailey spent the first few years of his life living in the house next door to the hospital. child. He attended public school in East Texas and college at North Texas State University. After college he moved with his family to Northern California and entered his field of study -- computer technology, specifically program development.

Mr. McSwain, along with a business partner, founded a software development and information technology service serving Sacramento, CA and the San Francisco Bay area.

After retiring about four years ago, McSwain sold his interest in the company to his partner who continues to operate the business in Sacramento California.

"When I retired in 2010, " McSwain reflects, " I decided to refocus my lifelong interest and commitment to, whenever possible, using locally sourced food and products, practice regional sustainability, and a more earth-friendly lifestyle.

My decision to purchase Home Sweet Home earlier this year is the outcome of that commitment.

It is my goal, and that of resident Innkeeper Rose Owens, also a native of Henry County long away and now returned, to make certain that Home Sweet Home offers our guests a sense of well-being and comfort along with high quality, locally grown well prepared food. Whether visitors are enjoying a vacation weekend or night's rest away from work, or just sitting on the wonderful front porch of Home Sweet Home, we want our guests to feel they are truly at home with us."

Whether you are a local needing accommodations for a few days for yourself or family, or a traveler seeking a home away from home, think of us and call us if you want a private, comfortable, home that will accommodate your personal needs and/or provide live-work space for you and your family."

Home Sweet Home Bed and Breakfast is located at 108 North College Street, Paris, TN 38242, and can be reached by telephone at 731.642.8135, or on the web at: www.homesweethomebandb.com
